The Declaration of Independence

Ben Sends:

On July 4, 1776, 56 patriots signed the Declaration of Independence. In doing so, they placed their trust in their creator to guide them to victory. The Declaration ends with these words; "And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor." From that moment, each of those patriots lived with the knowledge that failure to achieve independence would result in each of them dangling at the end of one of King George III's, ropes. The second paragraph of the Declaration begins with these words; "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.--That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, --That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness."

Today, the nation that was founded on the principles listed above, is under assault by enemies, intent on the control of the power/wealth of our nation, from within it's own borders. Some of these enemies, have joined hands with those of like minded ilk, from outside our borders, and are in the process of causing probable irreversible fatal damage to the Constitutional Republic that is the United States of America. Therefore, some might consider it timely for each American Patriot to review the past, and the history of our struggle for liberty, independence, and justice. Hopefully, such patriots will find the courage to do, in the eyes of the grantor of "...divine Providence...", the right thing for the right reason, regarding the survival of our divinely inspired gift that is the United States of America.

REC in Chaos

What do I do Next... Boss?

TCCR Staff Photos

The St. Johns County Republican Executive Committee (REC) met at the World Golf Village Conference Center for its monthly business meeting on October 6, 2022. But first, a summary leading up to this meeting needs to be presented.

On March 3, 2022, Lance Thate, a founding member of the Saint Augustine Tea Party (SATP), attended a SJC REC meeting for the first time in many years. In 2011, Thate was a Precinct Committeeman in St. John's County. He served in that capacity for about four years. Thate quit the SJC REC when he moved out of St. Johns County. Thate also served as the Chairman of the SATP for about 9 years. He still serves as Editor and Publisher of Town Crier Report (TCCR). In TCCR's coverage of the March 3, 2022 event, Thate described the grassroots candidates, who were allowed to speak, as a breath of fresh air. He compared the grassroots candidates as being in living vivid color when compared to the black and white images of the disconnected GOP candidates. The new precinct committeemen and committeewomen were promoting grassroots candidates that the establishment Republican members would never accept, just as the Party's leadership never accepted Trump or Tea Party Candidates. The success of the grassroots candidates at that meeting caused the SJC REC board to take actions to resist the candidates that new members were encouraging and supporting.

This resulted in the membership calling for a special meeting which was held on July 28, 2022. According to a Parliamentarian, known to the SJC REC board, this meeting was legal and valid. Jaime Parham, Chairman of the special membership meeting, reported that a quorum was present and that the meeting was empowered to take certain actions. Numerous motions were made and unanimously accepted. Robert's Rules of Order were strictly enforced. The results of this special meeting clearly showed that the base in the SJC REC had shifted from the old guard "Republican Establishment" with a Globalist bias, to the Conservative Movement which was started by the Tea Party in 2009. The Tea Party of old as a national force is gone but the movement continues today with younger, more aggressive and energized people determined to empower "We the People." In St. John's County, Florida, the Republican Party had been unable to control or destroy the local Tea Party which has created a forum over the years for a variety of conservative groups. However, the dedication of the new Precinct Captains did not have much bearing on the Republican Primary candidate selection.

The old guard Republican leadership, aided by the Republican Party of Florida (RPOF), created an environment in which many of the grassroots candidates failed in their primary bids. Some of the new Precinct Committee Personnel have claimed voter irregularities in some races similar to what occurred in the fraudulent general election of 2020. This is particularly true in the Travis Hutson State Senatorial race. Hutson won his primary by a very small margin with many calling for a recount and investigation of mail-in ballots.

On September 1, 2022 a SJC REC meeting was called by the REC Board. A resolution was passed condemning the St. John's County School Board for allowing pornography within the school system. That was the high point of the meeting. From there it degenerated to the point where Chairman Roy Alaimo gavelled the meeting to a close with people standing to be heard, with a motion on the floor and without a motion for adjournment, representing a complete breakdown of Robert's Rules and clear misconduct. It was clear that the SJC REC Board of Directors chose to disregard the July 28, 2022 meeting with the aid of the RPOF as justification for their action.

The TCCR's March 3, 2022 headline was "Rupture at the REC" and its headline for the September meeting was "Rumble at REC Continues." This brings us up to date to the most recent REC meeting on October 6th. This meeting can only be described as chaotic, hence the headline "REC in Chaos."

Chairman Roy Alaimo called the meeting to order and proceeded with the Invocation and Pledge of Allegiance. He then called for the Secretary's reading of the minutes of the September 1, 2022 meeting and the membership's acceptance of those minutes. What should have been a procedural process immediately turned into a challenge of those minutes by the members. It was about this time that members started challenging the Chairman about his ban on video recordings of the meetings. Members wanted to know who authorized the ban, thereby expressing a radical idea for REC members, that the members make those decisions and not the Chairman. Finally, through the chaos of the moment, a motion was made to accept the Secretary's report; a second was obtained and a vote to accept the Secretary's report was obtained. There were numerous people making videos which caused the old guard members great concern during the process. The shock that members would disregard the ban and take pictures is caught in the picture to the left. This individual put up her hand to block the activities of one of the videographers.

Next came the Treasurer's report and instantly members wanted to know why the Board spent $600 for security. Joe Ryan, long term Tea Party member and REC member, questioned why a Parliamentarian from the RPOF was present. There were rumors circulating on the floor that the Parliamentarian was there at the insistence of the RPOF Chairman, Joe Gruters, the real boss of the meeting. Parham supports the idea that the near loss of Travis Hutson's primary effort to Gary James prompted the RPOF interest in St. Johns County. The RPOF is also being challenged in numerous other counties in Florida. Speculation circulated among the members as to what the cost would be and who would be paying for the Parliamentarian. It was suggested SJC REC would pay $1000, bringing great dissatisfaction among the members.

In the ongoing chaos, 25 minutes into the meeting, Chairman Roy Alaimo gavelled the meeting to a close. The SJC REC leadership could not even get the Treasurer's report accepted by the membership. The improper closure of the meeting, with the RPOF Parliamentarian present, illustrates one of the ways the top down authoritarian control of party members occurs. The procedural rules are primarily for controlling party members and are subject to change to fit the circumstances.

During the chaos the video recordings continued. At one point an example was made of Marnie King who was escorted out of the meeting. She offered no resistance, but there are witnesses who claim physical assault occurred. However, King turned the situation into a victory. With the close of the meeting RINO REC members hastily fled from the meeting room in panic. With her camera rolling, King recorded the reaction of these so called Republicans when she challenged them, in the exit hall, with the fact that pornography was being permitted in our public schools with the blessing of the St. John's County School Board. Some walked by without making eye contact; some displayed rejection and some reacted with hate. These REC members were behaving more like Democrat Executive Committee members (DEC); a clear demonstration that the uni-party truly does exist.

The SATP's Town Criers have experienced the Communist hate in the streets from time to time. It makes no difference whether the individual has an R or D after their name, because a Communist has nothing but hate for Liberty loving people.

Thirty Days before the Mid-term Elections

There are about 30 days left before the midterm elections and anyone who takes even a casual glance at the electoral system understands that the process is fatally corrupted. Following is the Mission Statement of the RPOF:

The Republican Party of Florida will promote the principles upon which our nation and our state were founded: freedom, liberty, personal responsibility, and accountability. We will advocate fiscally-sound, common-sense solutions that will promote job and economic growth, provide the best education to our children, and create a path to prosperity for Florida and America. Members of the Republican Party of Florida will be united by these principles and will work to elect Floridians with integrity who will work to enact such solutions. We will seek to be the most effective state party in the nation and serve as a model for other party organizations.

The SATP has been in existence, in its present form, for a little over 12 years. During that time the SATP has not experienced even one Republican politician who even remotely comes close to the standard set by the Republican Party of Florida's Mission Statement. It is why the term "Republican in Name Only" exists. The window for a third party is long passed. The Democrat Party is bound to the Chinese Communist Party by the Biden Crime Family and the business interests of others, including cooperative Republicans. History teaches us that when a political solution is not possible, then war becomes inevitable. A foreign war might keep the illegitimate Democrat administration in power for the foreseeable future. A domestic war has the potential for cleansing. The answer and the future belongs to Providence.

PROGRESSIVENESS, SOCIALISM, NATIONAL SOCIALISM OR COMMUNISM

By Roderick T. Beaman

This is excerpted from The (Communist) Manifesto of Karl Marx. The Manifesto is a terrible read that requires all effort to slog through. It is a turgid screed of no literary value. The only value at all is to be able to say you once endured it.

Manifesto of the Communist Party: Proletarians and Communists...In this sense, the theory of the Communists may be summed up in the single sentence: Abolition of private property. These measures will, of course, be different in different countries. Nevertheless, in most advanced countries, the following will be pretty generally applicable.

1. Abolition of property in land and application of all rents of land to public purposes.
2. A heavy progressive or graduated income tax.
3. Abolition of all rights of inheritance.
4. Confiscation of the property of all emigrants and rebels.
5. Centralization of credit in the banks of the state, by means of a national bank with state capital and an exclusive monopoly.
6. Centralization of the means of communication and transport in the hands of the state.
7. Extension of factories and instruments of production owned by the state; the bringing into cultivation of waste lands, and the improvement of the soil generally in accordance with a common plan.
8. Equal obligation of all to work. Establishment of industrial armies, especially for agriculture.
9. Combination of agriculture with manufacturing industries; gradual abolition of all the distinction between town and country by a more equable distribution of the populace over the country.
10. Free education for all children in public schools. Abolition of children's factory labor in its present form. Combination of education with industrial production, etc...

This list is something to ponder. Every single one is in place, to at least some degree, in this country.

Some, such as public education in item 10, seem, like a good idea but then you have to stop and think about what it's become; an agency for control of the citizenry. Just look at the third sentence and you can understand that it is to be combined with industrial production. As John Dewey, architect of the modern American education system said, the goal should be to produce automatons for the state. This dovetails perfectly with Marx's agenda.

(It should be noted, Dewey was a prominent progressive of his time and a socialist who, along with a cadre of progressives of his time, admired the work of Benito Mussolini, Vladimir Lenin and Adolf Hitler who, in turn, admired the work of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Hitler got his idea for the Youth Corps and public construction projects such as the Autobahn from FDR's Civilian Conservation Corps and Works Progress Administration. Democrats, progressives, socialists, national socialists & communists are all cut from the same cloth. They all believe that the desires of the state outweigh the dignity of people.

Marx did not want education for the development of independent thinking. As the third sentence in item 10 attests, he wanted it for industrial armies.(The choice of the word armies is interesting.) The second sentence to abolish child factory labor as it was at the time, seems worthy and admirable but the rest of the item, in the context of the agenda, makes me wary. The etc. makes me wonder what's included. Etc. is too undefined when it comes to government.

Further, education has become a centerpiece of communist societies. And not just for manipulating the minds of the impressionable young. Re-education camps became infamous under Mao & Pol Pot and similar programs are coming into fashion now in America. Thinking must be corrected.

Item 1. The abolition of private property rights has not been achieved but, nevertheless, there have been significant inroads for that goal (see Items 7 & 9.)

Item 2 has been achieved. In this country, the marginal tax rate has been as high as 94% which has to be a disincentive to work & certainly does not seem consistent with a society oriented to the workers or economic success.

Item 3. The abolition of all rights of inheritance has not happened in this country but there can still be hefty taxes on inheritances so it has been partially achieved.

Item 4. The confiscation of the property of emigrants and rebels has been characteristic of all communist societies; the Soviet Union, China, Cuba, etc. I've been told that New York imposes continuing taxes on those who leave. It could be a harbinger of things to come. I have heard similar things about New Jersey.

Item 5. The Federal Reserve Bank does not completely control all banking and credit in this country but it comes very close. The daily reports of The Federal Reserve attest to its importance.

Item 6. Control of transportation and communication are certainly in place and can be used to destroy any opposition. They are also corner-pieces of communist societies.

As for Item 7, for the 'extension of factories and instruments of production owned by the state' is far from achieved but 'the bringing into cultivation of waste lands, and the improvement of the soil generally in accordance with a common plan' is with zoning laws.

I can not see how any part of Item 8, 'Equal obligation of all to work. Establishment of industrial armies, especially for agriculture' has been achieved.

Item 9. The 'Combination of agriculture with manufacturing industries' has not been achieved but there is 'little distinction between town and country' in many sections of the country with suburban sprawl and it has also been accomplished through zoning and land use laws, the major assault on property rights.

The first part of item 10 is far from complete but government does control the use of land, the original source of wealth production, through zoning and land use laws. Also, see the second sentence of item 9. Further, in many sections of the country, there is little distinction between town & country.

Thoughtful consideration of this entire agenda leads to the realization of just how much Marx wanted to insinuate government into every part of our lives and how much it has succeeded. It is in opposition to the very foundations of our nation.

In various degrees, they are the hallmarks of socialism, national socialism, fascism, communism and their prime engine has been progressivism.

The administration of all of these programs requires an alphabet of government agencies too long to list. You can check them out at <https://www.usa.gov/federal-agencies>. If you just click on any letter in the alphabet list, you're likely to find at least 3 or 4 agencies whose regulations you might violate on a daily basis and for which you could be prosecuted. Add those from the other alphabet letters and envision them being used to harass every other citizen. As Lavrenti Beria famously assured Stalin, "Show me the man & I'll show you the crime." Later, Beria himself fell victim to it, facing a firing squad after Stalin's death, likely under Nikita Khrushchev's orders.

It is also interesting that at least 17 federal agencies have SWAT Teams which should raise the question of why. Are their functions so onerous? It may also explain why so many Democrats, progressives & socialists want to disarm the populace.

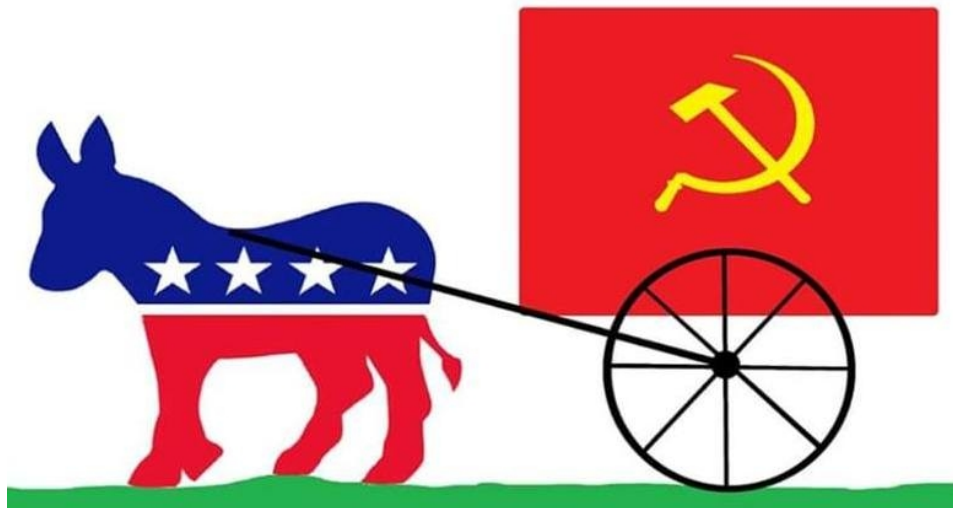

I doubt whether any Democrat would ever support the repeal of any of these and far too few Republicans would. They have worked too hard and to accomplish this and many have been in place for so long that people think of them as indispensable and legitimate governmental functions. They aren't for us to reclaim our freedom it is necessary for them to be repealed but it would in a political upheaval that would shake the country its core. That tells you a lot about the status of this country.

Have we become Marxist yet? Think about it and decide for yourself. Functionally, I think we have and there is no way that any meaningful reversal can be achieved. Too many special interest groups have been created whose entire livelihoods depend on its existence.

Look what happened when Ronald Reagan and especially Donald J. Trump tried. They just did some trimming around the edges and the jackals screamed. Any repeal of their programs would be politically impossible.

To further Benjamin Franklin's observation, those who trade their freedom for security, deserve and get neither.

A Memorial:

Praise for Paul Waldron, A Man of Integrity.

I would like to praise Commissioner Waldron for the hero that he was. Paul Waldron was a man of integrity, which is all too lacking in politics these days. He represented the people of his district as a true public servant. Many admired Commissioner Waldron who saw him as the lone voice of sanity in a County Commission that seems at odds with the needs and will of their constituents.

Commissioner Waldron stood up against the cabal of big developers and special interests. He was the only Commissioner that pointed out the obvious flaws of the other Commissioners rubber-stamping of expansion of development and over-development. He was the only Commissioner that pointed out the problem of giving away impact fee credits to developers for building their own development's infrastructure. He was the only Commissioner that voted against putting the sales tax increase on the ballot. He was the lone voice for sanity; he never gave up and never kept silent.

If you follow any elected public officials, you can usually tell by their contributions exactly how they will act while in office. Unlike all the other Commissioners, currently serving, the record shows Paul Waldron was the only one who was not beholden to campaign contributions from developers and special interests. I point this out because it is so rare in St. Johns County politics.

The records show that Paul Waldron contributed $68424.92 of the total of $147,694.22 contributed for both his races in 2016 and 2020. About half came from his own pocket. Moreover, Waldron did not receive any contributions from the any of the PACs based in Tallahassee. Compare that to the half a million dollars spent, just this year, in the attempt to get two Commissioners reelected. Most of the people who supported Commissioner Waldron were individuals and local businesses that contributed small contributions because they believed in Paul Waldron. He did not let them down.

In conclusion, Waldron contributed his time, energy and his own money to serve as our County Commissioner. He did the right thing and stood up for his constituents. Paul Waldron took his job, as Commissioner, seriously and honestly. He sacrificed his time and personal fortune to serve his community.

He will be sorely missed, not only by his family, but by our larger community as well.

God's speed to the honorable Paul Waldron to his just reward in heaven.

United We Stand, Divided We Fall

“United we stand, divided we fall” was a statement well understood by our founding fathers. It is a truism that conservative elements of the SJC-REC must adhere to in order to assert local control over the SJC-REC, which is a common goal of conservatives within the GOP.

Currently County REC organizations are controlled by the Republican Party of Florida (RPOF) which has a bias toward the Globalist Agenda. The RPOF's control is achieved by the manipulation of the organizational rules and the money flows. Republicans raise the vast majority of their money at State and National levels. The power structure is easy to understand if you follow the money.

The conservative elements of the St. Johns County Republican Executive Committee (SJC-REC) held a unity meeting at The Spot, a local restaurant located on Highway US1 North in St. Johns County (SJC) Florida, on October 20, 2022.

Social Media Image

Recently the Republican Party has had an influx of reform minded conservative members who supported “Grassroots Candidates” in the recent Republican Primary Elections in Florida. These new members clashed with the Republican elite’s selection of candidates. Business as usual was challenged. However, the divided conservative efforts failed for the most part and the establishment prevailed.

Conservatives, by definition, are individualists. They do not easily conform to the “group think” that makes up the liberal and controlling wing of the Republican Party.

In SJC Florida, conservative REC members, who are also members of groups such as the North Florida Patriots, Moms for Liberty, the Saint Augustine Tea Party, Liberty Lovers and others, agreed to attend a meeting organized by Christie Paul, a long standing REC member, with the idea of achieving conservative unity; hence the October 20th meeting.

The meeting was presided over by Sergio Ibarra who announced he was running for the REC Chair, not because he wanted to, but because he was asked to. He conducted the meeting in an open manner, allowing anyone who wished to speak to do so. There seemed, however, to be a tension in the air in spite of the openness. Many attending had run opposing candidates against each other which added to the ease of the establishment candidates prevailing. Hard feelings appeared to be present with several personal attacks occurring during the course of the evening. A lack of trust and the widespread questioning of motives was found in after meeting interviews and discoveries.

Those in attendance tended to agree that the 25 or so new members needed to be inducted into the REC and that the SJC-REC constitutional issues regarding renewal must also be accomplished at the November meeting. The overall tone of those who appeared to be in charge suggested that it was the conservatives who were being disruptive at REC meetings and that they needed to be quiet and not upset the establishment in order that this business could be conducted. At one point Sergio suggested that a policy in force at the Greater Republican Club of Saint Augustine be used at the next upcoming REC meeting. The policy requires that members agree ahead of time to leave a meeting if they are determined to be disruptive or out of order. This policy was instituted by the Republican Club’s President, Peter Royal. At the time of its enactment there was much criticism among liberty minded people. Sergio’s proposal was quickly challenged by Shawn Morrison the current Saint Augustine Tea Party Chairman. After some debate, agreement on this issue was not achieved.

The REC Secretary, Blake Patterson, a sort of featured speaker, spoke at length. Blake clearly is no fan of the current REC Chairman, Roy Alaimo. He was adamant about having a vote of no confidence at the November meeting. There was complete agreement on the need for the current REC Chairman, a tool for the RPOF, to be removed from office. After the meeting, however, it was discovered that many think Blake is playing both sides of the street and cannot be trusted.

Robert's Rules Anyone?

Reviewing video tapes of REC meetings, the alleged disruptive behavior by the newer conservative members was simply a response to the Chairman's failure of conducting the meeting in an impartial manner according to Robert's Rules. Whether Alaimo is ignorant of the parliamentary procedure or willfully violating his duty, the alleged disruptive members are the natural response when members are excluded from participation. The only threat of violence came from establishment members of the REC against the new members. What the members and the Chairman need to understand is that it is the members who decide the direction of an organization. The Chairman provides a system of rules, Robert's Rules, to expedite and facilitate the members' will. It was found that many of the new members had never heard of Robert's Rules and did not know they are established rules of order for meetings.

A bright spot in the October 20th meeting occurred when a member distributed a 5 page condensed copy of Robert's Rules.

Hard to Stand United without Trust

It is hard to stand united with people you don't respect or trust and yet this is exactly what conservatives must do if they are going to prevail in the reforming of the Republican Party. The division of conservatives into opposing groups has been used by the liberal wing of the Republican Party to maintain control for decades. Forcing local REC Chairmen to live up to the rules they are bound legally to observe will be a good first step. All conservatives must become experts in Robert's Rules.

To stand united, the old adage of My Enemy's Enemy is my Friend may be a way towards a united vote.

For over a decade Tea Party members have been complaining that being in an REC meeting is like being in an enemy camp. The truth is that it is an enemy camp which must be taken and it can only be done by a united conservative front.

Allowing "Establishment Republican" collusion with CCP's Democrat Party is a recipe for the annihilation of the land we all love.

The time for action is now. Now is all that is left. Tomorrow will be too late!

Why we need to win this upcoming Political Battle and War...

By CS Bennett

In order to defeat an enemy, one must set out to understand that enemy's motives, tactics, and endgame. Ignorance and apathy will only lead one into complacency, inaction, and eventually submission. Ways the left have been testing the waters in their efforts to control Americans are as follows. Initially, their aim was to get a feel for how many of us would comply with their mandates and edicts without question, while also gauging how many would strongly resist. Of course, government will never be direct with their intentions, so they disguise them behind a series of platforms called public interest, national interest, national medical emergencies, social justice, racism, class envy, and protecting our precious environmental, as though conservatives have no benevolent interest in the environment, or any of their other push button issues. The left will also employ disinformation, misinformation, and outright lies to achieve their objectives. Psyche-Ops is another method they use to turn the tie in their favor, the bias media being their lap dogs.

The choice we have is simple. We fight or we surrender. If we chose to fight, we can conduct this war individually, or as a united front. We can also do both, with some of us breaking off to do what we do best to cripple the enemy deep behind their lines, much like our Special Forces members do. The bottom line is this, we must stand up and be accounted for or we are doomed as a nation. I am sure that the spirit of the founding fathers, and those who fought, much like we are about to, to defend and preserve what we love and hold dear to our hearts, and that is liberty, freedom, and our own individuality. For God and Country, I say Rise Ole ISRAEL!!! To all patriots, who love the United States of America, I say, Rise all Blue Coats, as we did against the mighty Red Coats of the British Empire during the first major American war, the Revolutionary War. We are at war, yes, and for the hearts and souls of the next generation, many of them already seduced by the dark side, but can be forgiven for they know not what they do... Only the wise would know what is at stake here...

1. Taking away our right to bear arms
2. Taking away our right to free speech and free expression.
3. Taking away all other rights, liberties and freedoms
4. Taking away our right to worship the Almighty God
5. Once the above are achieved, they, the elite, will then control us with impunity

Subtext: The US Constitution Is Racist and Outdated

The means by which they are implementing their agenda

1. Using every mass shooting to justify government taking away our 2nd Amendment
2. Using political correctness to stifle freedom of speech and thought
3. Using abbreviated and adulterated history they have made up to influence our youths
4. Using this thing called 'hate speech' to advance their LGBTQ agenda and subvert morality
5. Wanting to banish paper money to go to an all-digital monetary system, that way, they can see everything you purchase and know what your proclivities are. Privacy would be a thing of the past

Subtext: America Must Be Brought to Its Knees and Submit to The New World Order

What they have taken control over so far in subtle ways, some not so subtle

1. Forcing us to use florescent lighting v. incandescent lighting
2. Forcing us to rely on satellite and cable services; no longer antennas for free air-wave use
3. Forcing us to wear face masks, instead of leaving it up to the individual. The same it goes for the jab. They leave you no choice. In my world, these things either work or they don't. Because of their nonscientific mandates, businesses and government buildings one could enter was denied if you refused to wear a mask during COVID
4. Forcing certain businesses to shut down during COVID while allowing larger businesses to remain open. As a result, some of the smaller businesses failed to survive, and some never came back.
5. Separating families who had relatives in assisted living facilities and hospice and were not allowed to visit with their loved ones, some eventually dying alone in these centers with no loved ones around
6. The takeover of our educational system and to the point they are churning out little Marxists and socialist radicals every year. And to tell us we have no say in this.
7. Gender identity issues: allowing children to choose their preferred gender. Also allowing males who identify as women to compete against all natural born females in sports.
8. Their nefarious agenda to keep energy prices high, on purpose, to force Americans can be extremely punitive, as well
9. The left wants to erase the Almighty God's spiritual and societal role in our lives

10.They claim Black Lives Matter, yet are gleeful when it comes to visiting death upon the helpless unborn babies of Black mothers, and unborn babies of other races, all which demonstrates their immorality and the fallacy of their initial claims, notwithstanding the fact that this all came about because of Charles Darwin's unfounded racist views on minorities, especially Blacks which gained traction over the decades
