A NEWBIE PATRIOT IN THE MAKING

By David Heimbold

Imagine that! Getting kicked out of school for having a picture of the Gadsden Flag on your Backpack, in the United States of America. Welcome to the new America, where the freedom of speech has been squashed, not only by the media but, in your public schools.

I was walking by the television and I saw Eric Bolling interviewing a mom and her young son about his run-in with the leftist teacher. When he asked his teacher what the problem was, she said it was about slavery and it represented slaves in the United States. Obviously, she knew nothing about history, or Christopher Gadsden.

Coincidentally, I am finishing a book about Freedom of Speech being stepped on by the present Biden administration. The United States has been taken over by the Marxists in D.C. Obama introduced a new social order of destruction and it's common name is Communism.

Karl Marx, the father of Communism, wrote that the first step in taking over a Republican Government is to use every dirty trick in the book. And where do you find books? Answer, in the libraries of all the

DON'T TREAD ON ME — A HISTORY OF THE GADSDEN FLAG

The Gadsden Flag is a historical American flag with a bright yellow field depicting a rattlesnake, coiled and ready to strike. Printed under the snake are the words “Don’t Tread On Me.” This flag was named after its designer, American statesman Christopher Gadsden.

Benjamin Franklin first used the rattlesnake in 1751 when he referenced it in a satirical commentary that he published in his Pennsylvania Gazette. As the American Revolution approached the snake became a symbol of the colonies and the American spirit.

The United States Navy was established in 1775, and before ships departed for their first mission, Gadsden presented the commander-in-chief of the Navy, Commodore Esek Hopkins, with the “Don’t Tread On Me” flag to serve as his personal standard.

The Gadsden flag is considered to be one of the first flags of the United States, and has been reintroduced many times since the American Revolution as a symbol of American patriotism. public schools in the United States of America. The boards of education in the 50 States are Union Members who answer to the drum of Socialism.

Gone from the libraries are religious books that talk about our Constitution and Christian morality.

I want to encourage the young fellow for standing up against those who are trying to destroy our education system. Wear your tri-corner hat and wave your Gadsden Flag proudly! And remember to thank Eric Bolling and Newsmax for giving you an opportunity to fight for our freedom on their TV program.

[Editor’s Note: I had the opportunity to see the Eric Bolling broadcast live. I found it interesting that Mom didn’t up stage her son and was happy to simply display her pride in her son’s story. Great job MOM.]

The Key Is Your God Given Immune System

By CS Bennett

FB Image

“Strange how people are suddenly dropping off, and in great numbers, ranging from age 26 thru 66 without explanation other than the deaths being linked to a heart attack or a stroke, or other medical complications. Even stranger, the moment you allude to the COVID jab, and its possible role in these deaths, those defending the jab say that the COVID shot had nothing to do with these deaths. Yet, these same people, when people like myself offered up other possible reasons for people dying during COVID, especially when government was putting on a full-court press for people to get the jab, these same jab enthusiasts insisted that just about every death around this time was likely the result of COVID and because the person failed to get the jab... My oh, my... How often has it been reported that those who took the jab, including Biden, and all of the boosters, are still coming down with COVID. Will someone explain that to me, please... I do know why. It is because the jab suppresses one’s immune system, not enhances it... And to think that they are about to push another round of shots on us.

Much like AIDS, no one dies from AIDS, they die from a weakened immune system, and complications as a result of AIDS.

It is no difference with COVID. It weakens one's immune system.

And I repeat...

The key is to enhance your immune system, which was something government never told you to do... I say, take this jab at your own risk, but do not force others to do so... People are always saying that this is for the interest and safety of the public. I ask, where is government, and other humans, when it comes to the safety and lives of the unborn? Who is concerned about their well-being?”

Think about this for one minute, scientists who work with pathogens (bacteria and viruses) wear full blown bio-suits, much like what astronauts wear going into space, and we are supposed to believe that wearing a simple mask is going to stop, or slow down, a deadly pathogen? What was most crazy to me is that you had to wear a mask into a restaurant, but then take it off to eat, as if germs stopped flowing for you to eat. Or this going up one aisle at the grocery store and down another, as if a pathogen is only go in one direction. A few of us opened our eyes and knew what was going on and how much had been put into hyping COVID to the point some individuals became so paralyzed and paranoid that they stayed locked on in the house all year long or wore their mask in their car or when riding a bike outside in open air with no one around them. Fear paralyzes and that is exactly what government wanted of you. They wanted you to have so much fear that you lost control of reality and your senses to a degree. And I am not just saying this, many scientists working in this field said what I am saying but were shut down by government for not towing the Biden Administration line. He and Camela Harris both caught COVID, and numerous times. What, they need more jobs...

Again, I say, to each their own. I'm not falling for it. Did not the first time. And yes, people did die. But they are dying of other pathogens, as well. Many of the people who succumbed, has per-existing conditions that worsened after taking the jab, and others succumbed because their immune systems were already compromised... The jab just became the final nail in the coffin, one might say...

If you initially looked into the causes of deaths in the United States in 2020, COVID was not in the top ten. It was not even in the top twenty causes of deaths. Yet, after people, who do their research, start putting this out, the government and the CDC got it up into the top ten causes of deaths during that year. Makes you go, ummm...

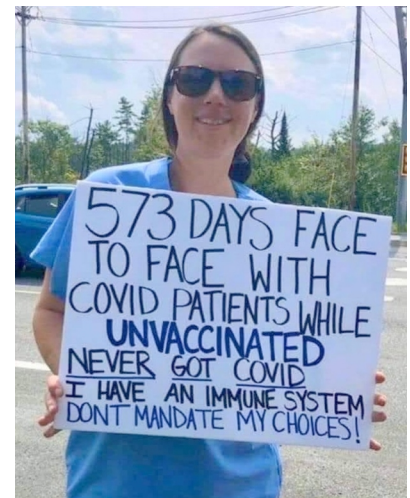

Let people decide for themselves, I propose, as is the right of all Americans. Who really knows what is in the jab anyway, and the long-term side effects of it, perhaps seven years down the road? A lot of people who took the jab, willingly, or were forced to after being threatened with the loss of employment if they did not, are going to find out in the years to come...

I say, leave it to the individual. Do not make me put something in my body I do not want just to make you feel better when it is I who boosted my immune system and got through this just fine...

But, so can you, next time around!

Sure, they may come after me, for talking against their Marxist agenda, but let them. I am still operating on free, not fear, as is the mindset of many of my fellow Americans...

I am not going down without a fight...

Those Who Experienced It Remember

By CS Bennett

Like many Americans, I watched broadcast videos of that infamous and tragic moment in our history being replayed throughout the day, and it is still an experience as fresh, and as raw, and as visually numbing, as the day it occurred some 22 years ago. Once again, we could not help but relieve and watch in sheer horror as New York came under attack, along with the deadly attack on the Pentagon, and then the harrowing tale of Flight 93 that ended tragically over a field in Pennsylvania. To this day, Americans are left forever scarred and haunted by that day. To a person, there are still conspiracy theories out there and unanswered questions.

Throughout the videos of the attack people kept asking, and quite rightfully, “Where is our military? Where are our advanced lethal fighter jets? And when are they going to show up? I am talking about military aircraft up and down the East Coast. The two birds that finally got airborne, it is my understanding that they did not even have any missiles on them when they were scrambled. And when they were up and ripping through the sky, they were vectored out to sea, I am told, instead of the cities under attack. Please correct me if I am wrong on this.

The greater question I have now, and still pose to others, is... “Where was the FBI, the NSA, the DIA and the CIA before and during this attack? Do we not pour billions of dollars to fund these agencies and their clandestine projects in hopes of fielding the finest Intel and data collecting network this side of espionage to protect us? Have we not the most sophisticated intelligence gathering technology in the world and other capabilities? If so, on that day they all failed us. Every single agency. The question remains why.

Today, they are no better as they spend their time spying on our own citizens and weaponizing government agencies to come after us, the American citizen. Those who were courageous enough to stand up to them and challenge their corruption were harassed, some even imprisoned. Allow me to say this, what you see happening now is the way the elite and the world's privileged play hardball, as all oppressive regimes play. Unfortunately, the months, weeks and days leading up to 9/11, when we truly needed them to face and engage a real threat, they were all MIA (missing in action). Was this a case of ineptness or complicity?

Because of our agencies poor response, we can no longer count on government. Actually, it's been a long time since we could. So, that leaves us, the ordinary citizen to fend for ourselves and our country. As one of our great founding fathers said, "We can all hang together, or separately." For some of us, the battle is already enjoined. The question is this, do you have the courage and fortitude to stand tall and proud. Believe me, those out to destroy this republic believe in what they are doing, they truly do, and with a misguided conviction. Again, let us unite, those who are of the mindset to return to, and adhere to, the principles this once great republic was founded on. And for our gallant efforts, may the Almighty God continue to Bless the USA...

The Passing of the Honorable Butch Godwin

My Salute to
Butch Godwin

Dear Ms. Lunelle,

HK Photo

There I was some 20 years ago, don in the uniform of the Southern Soldier with the Southern Cross in hand, alongside my little brother Terry Lee having just left Montgomery, Alabama heading west on the Civil Rights Highway (81) towards Selma on the Historic March Across Dixie.

With full knowledge that upon entering Selma we would have to cross the infamous Edmund Pettus Bridge that Dr. Martin Luther King, Joseph Lowery, and a host of other Civil Rights Leaders had crossed on their infamous March heading east to Montgomery as we now headed west to Austin, Texas on our Civil Rights March.

As we made our way, so many, many folks would stop to tell us about the throngs of people gathered awaiting our arrival; to include an African who expressed and felt very sure that we would encounter a great deal of grief from those gathered. And, furthermore, that he was on his way to report to them just how far away we were.

Approximately 5 miles from the Selma City limits, a middle age White man, the Honorable Butch

Godwin, would come out to greet and march with us; speaking and introducing us to so many of the folks gathered as we made our way across the Edmund Pettus; stopping at where the African who had given us so much grief was now standing. Mr. Godwin told him that the essence of the honor for the Southern African was complicit with the honor found in the Southern Cross (reaching out to and embracing my flag) that is inseparable to them, no matter who tries to make it not so.

A huge roar from the crowd would ensue as he led us onto a Soul food restaurant after the hugs we received from so many at end of the bridge. It seemed that Mr. Godwin knew every Black person in the restaurant to include the owner who would not let us pay.

I would be so lucky to see and share so many more warm feelings with this quiet giant of a man throughout the oncoming years. Sadly on the morning of September 16, 2023, the Honorable Gary Johnson would inform me that one of the kindest, most loved and respected by his fellow men and women, the Honorable Butch Godwin had passed away. I like so many will miss him here on earth. Yet we are certain that he will be received with a heartfelt welcome from the Almighty God and those who will welcome him to Heaven. God bless his family in their time of grief. God bless you!

Your brother, HK

Editor's Note [It is amazing, the intertwining of the Civil Rights Movement, the Saving of Southern Heritage, the defending of the Declaration of Independence and its celebration on the 4th of July, the Constitution of the United States and its Bill of Rights. All that is sacred to Americans is under attack from the evil forces of WOKE ... the voice of exploitation and division that is vested in the Communist Revolution under way today. I recall a day not so long ago. It was Martin Luther King Day in St Augustine and the brotherhood of three people of different backgrounds united in preserving the truth.

Pictured here from left to right are Lance Thate, Doug Russo and HK Edgerton. At the time St. Augustine's veteran's monument still stood tall in the city's plaza. We lost that battle. The oldest veteran's monument in the State of Florida is gone from the historic city. It is time to remember that we live in the land of the free and the home of the brave. We have a battle to fight. Let us remember there is no substitute for complete victory.]
