The Truth makes us free...We live in an Era of Lies

December 4, 2019

Miss Lunelle,

It appears that the North Carolina Sons of Confederate Veterans have colluded with the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill to avoid the lawful Order by the North Carolina Historic Commission to return the Confederate soldiers Cenotaph known as "Silent Sam" to its place of prominence on the campus of the University in 90 days.

And, as we all know the former University Chancellor and its Board of Directors defied this order, and carried their defiance even further by taking down the base of Silent which puts them in complicity with those who illegally pulled Silent down, and above the law.

And, while I nor anyone knows what the actual pleadings were in the proposed lawsuit of the Sons of Confederate Veterans; it was widely presumed by those who contributed their monies to the Sons legal defense funds, that it would be to force the University to comply with the people of the State's Historic Commission's Order to put the War Memorial back to its place of honor.

And, while it is now being widely circulated that the Chief Trial Counselor of the Southern Legal Resource Center supports the Son's action; as Chairman of the Board of Advisors Emeritus, I shall ask the Board to do otherwise. I condemn this illicit deal. Furthermore, I intend to explore filing a writ of mandamus and to explore how Marcy's law may be applied to this criminal act and others.

HK Edgerton at Silent Sam

I put my life on the line to speak for Silent Sam in the aftermath of the Anti-fa destruction I will continue fighting for him now.

Roy Hugo's Perspective

The Date That Will Live in Infamy

I had the good fortune of coming of age about halfway between the World War II generation and the Baby Boomers. Well, I guess that the good fortune part would depend on your value system.

At any rate, it is not surprising that "The Date That Will Live in Infamy" December 7, 1941, has a greater importance to me than most of my fellow citizens would have. In fact, the attack on Pearl Harbor is one of my most early memories. I was playing on the floor, aged four, when the radio broadcasts announced the "Dastardly Attack" as it was called then. I don't claim to remember the broadcast but I do remember, to this day, the apprehension that was created in my parents and their friends who had been enjoying a Sunday afternoon of playing cards.

FB Image

Fast-forward 78 years to St. Augustine Florida and the City's 65th annual Christmas parade:

I don't think that December 7, 1941 was on anyone's mind, but, say mine. Now, it is not that I do not appreciate getting over bad things and finding peace in forgiveness. Time itself is healing. But history is history. This historical event has been erased from the memory of many of the younger generations by our educational system. Many cannot even identify the century that WW II was fought in.

There is a Cultural War going on. And I can only wonder if our "Left-Wing City Officials" simply overlooked the fact that December 7 is a day of remembrance for the brave men who died on this date or was it a deliberate Cultural War attack choosing December 7th for the day of a festive parade. A reasonable question, because the more recent attack on 9/11, where a similar number of Americans died, is also systematically being deleted from the public's consciousness by the mainstream media. At least that's what they're attempting to do.

In 18 short years, the public is subjected to attempts of manipulation by the City officials in New York and the media's deliberate attempt to restrict the images of the twin tower disaster from being published. From my perspective, 78 years is a long time ago. But 18 years, is that too long ago to remember?

Things don't just happen in a vacuum. The Cultural War in America has been going on since the Wilson administration. But its intensity has increased greatly in the Bush, Clinton and Obama years. The Communist's Bible, "Rules for Radicals", written by his Holiness Saul Alinsky, is largely responsible for the phenomena.

The strategy of the Cultural War is rather simple. Eliminate the history that binds people together in a common identity. Without a history, people haven't a clue of whom and what they are. It makes them vulnerable to the nonsense we see today in our media, in our schools, in our entertainment and the utterances of those politicians who think they have an inherent right to rule.

The Americans that I grew up with would never allow or consider being ruled. There was a thing back then called American Exceptionalism. Ronald Reagan touched on it when promoted the idea of "A Shining City on the Hill". What truly made America great was the understanding that it was the individual that was exalted in our Republic. Every individual American was assumed to have equal justice under the law. Today's "Social Justice" is trying to replace the concept of equal justice. A struggle between a free individual and an enslaved collective is playing out. At present, there is no dialogue between the opposing forces. There is a media that is not even very good at their propagandized rhetoric. People are not talking to each other. They are choosing sides.

History teaches us what cannot be resolved politically will be resolved in war. Our Constitution requires those who serve in public office to take an oath of office. That oath includes a pledge to preserve protect and defend the Constitution against all enemies foreign and domestic. True Americans stand with the Constitution. It is the glue which unites us. The Constitution starts with "We the People" and the people will conclude this struggle with reverent reassertion of "We the People". In 1941, the enemy was foreign. Today, the enemy is domestic. Like WW II there must be 'unconditional surrender' of the Communist Left. There is no compromise or coexistence possible.

God save the Republic,

Roy Hugo

Santa Claus is Coming to Town Naughty or Nice?

Photos by TCCR Staff

On December 7, 2019, in the City of St. Augustine, Florida, a Christmas parade charmed young and old. It was the 65th annual Christmas parade in the historic city. This reporter has been covering the St. Augustine Tea Party's (SATP) Christmas celebrations for ten years. It was the Tea Party's 10th anniversary this year. Without exception this was the longest and most well attended parade to date.

The Tea Party's entry was its 38 foot replica of the Dartmouth, one of three boats, from which tea was thrown into the Boston Harbor in 1773 by the Sons of Liberty. The times were troubling then and they are troubling today.

"The duly elected President of the United States is about to be impeached on hearsay with no wrongdoing evidence as determined by formal investigations. An election is about to be overturned and the President needs support. It was the Tea Party's movement got the President elected. It was the Tea Party that was rejected by President Trump in favor of the Republicans. And still, we are out here supporting the President.

Where are the Republicans and the Trump Clubs today? Are they out here? My sources say no," St Augustine Tea Party Chairman, Lance Thate said.

The Tea Party members young and old delighted the folks along the parade route using the "Santa Claus is coming to Town" lyric. You know the part where it goes, "He's making a list, checking it twice. Going to find out who's naughty or nice." The nice and naughty list contained the first names with the first letter of their last name of well-known public figures. [See photos above]

The humorous play delivered by two young boys sitting in the bow of the Dartmouth brought chuckles and uncontrollable laughter from some along the entire parade. The boat's crew was a sea of red MAGA hats. Pushback came from less than a handful of bystanders

The Communists who demonstrated at the recent "Nights of Lights" were nowhere to be found. "Perhaps they're licking their wounds. Their last outing was a disaster," quipped SATP media Chairman, David Heimbold.

Tea Party is a Winner

The St. Augustine Tea Party is a group of winners. Like the current President, the Tea Party has been attacked by both Republicans and Democrats. Most public officials are contemptuous of SATP. The local media ridicules them if they cover them at all. But the little Tea Party keeps on chugging along. And when they meet the public they always come out winning. So it was with 2019 St Augustine Annual Christmas parade. Merry Christmas!

Dear Ms. Lunelle,

As I stood on one of my favorite corners on Highway #23 just outside Sylva, North Carolina on Thursday December 5, 2019, with the Southern Cross in hand; my thoughts were moving towards all the fun I knew that I would have later in the evening at the annual Christmas Ball of the Jackson Rangers Camp 1917 Sons of Confederate Veterans.

And, I might add, I would not be disappointed as I greeted, danced, hugged, and loved the night away with the Sons, their families, and friends.

And, then they came to where I stood; friends of my friend and brother , the Honorable Attorney Kirk D. Lyons, Chief Trial Counselor of the Southern Legal Resource Center of which I am proudly Chairman of the Board of Advisors Emeritus .

"HK, you've got a lot of explaining to do." (I hugged all four of them) "We heard that you accused Kirk D. of supporting that fiasco in Chapel Hill", said the eldest and biggest of these big boys, of whom he was the father. "Yeah HK," said one of the sons, "and you accused the North Carolina Sons of Confederate Veterans of colluding with them law breakers."

"No, men let's get it right", was my reply. "Kirk D. is the foremost of the brilliant lawyers who sit on the Board of Directors of the SLRC." And, what I said to a bevy of folks who did support this deal, and who slammed me for not supporting it because they claimed that Kirk D. did. My retort to them was: "I don't think that Kirk D. did." And, "go and read what I said", and furthermore "Kirk can speak for himself, and I believe he will."

A great deal of conversation in my opinion should have been extended to the victims, who include the people of the State (see Marcy's Law) in any of this courtroom Tom foolery.

The University of North Carolina Chapel Hill belongs to the people of the State, and the Historic Commission was established to protect the people's heritage, and not to listen to the transient whims of political fashions.

An in the case of Silent Sam, the Commission expressed the will of the people after the Cenotaph of Silent Sam was torn down by a criminal element , and ordered the University to put it back in its state of perfectness in 90 days.

And for the Board of Governors actions to defy that Order is an impeachable offense which they compounded by their actions to collude with the North Carolina Sons of Confederate Veterans to accept an insulting pittance of two and a half million dollars, and then the Board of Governors to deem where Sam can be or not be put up again in the State; not only is the will of the people betrayed, but also the rule of law.

And, again I echo my desire that Attorney Lyons and the Board of Directors will aid in obtaining a writ of Mandamus to stop this highly questionable action . God bless you!

Your brother,
HK

Tea Party's Dartmouth Does Christmas Parade Encore

Photos by TCCR Staff

Black Americans for Trump?

On December 14, 2019, an early morning downpour cleared up to provide nearly perfect weather for the planned Christmas Parade in the rural community of Hastings, Florida. The St. Augustine Tea Party (SATP) in its first year of existence, in 2010, rode down Main Street, on the Dartmouth, to a warm Hastings welcome. Remembering the response of the people in 2010, the Tea Party leadership decided to test President Trump's popularity among black Americans. Hastings is a predominantly black community with the black population representing about 55%.

The previous week, in St. Augustine, the Tea Party had fun with the song, "Santa Claus is Coming to Town". The lyrics, "Making a list and checking it twice, gonna find out who's naughty or nice," suggested the names of prominent political figures. [See picture above]. It was a huge success, bringing chuckles, smiles and laughter along the entire parade route. It was decided to try the same approach the following week in Hastings. St. Augustine had been predominantly a white audience. Hastings would be a predominantly black audience.

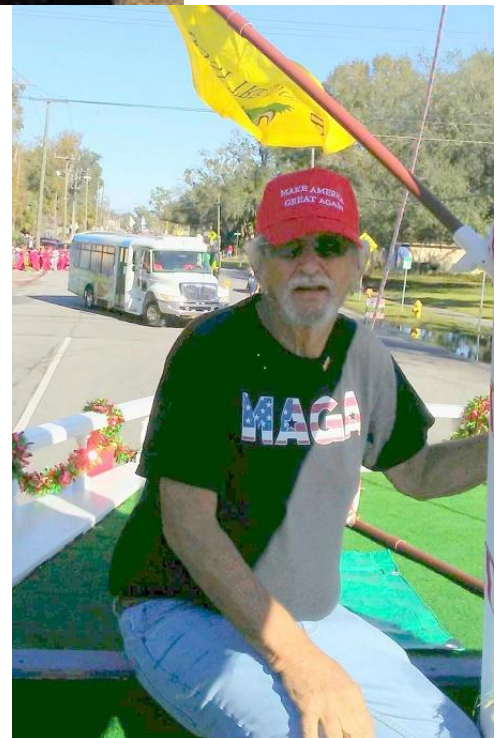

Not pretending to be fair and balanced, the Tea Party decidedly supported President Trump. If there was any doubt, MAGA T-shirts and MAGA Hats made things clear.

Tea Party Encore

Consequently, the Dartmouth, whose crew consisted of both “Locals” and SATP members, preceded down Main Street with the sound system playing, “Santa Claus is Coming to Town” and with the signs above displayed to the public. SATP Chairman, Lance Thate reports, “There were visible signs of support and absolutely no push back whatsoever. While this was a smaller parade with fewer in attendance than the St. Augustine Christmas parade, the overall public response was the same.”

“There is something going on in America. And based on the Tea Party’s experience over the last year, it is going to disrupt the Democrat’s powerbase,” Thate concluded.

Indivisibles St Johns Hold Rally Public Heckles and Jeers

Photos by TCCR Staff

There are those who love America and there are those who despise America. On December 17, 2019, those who hate what America stands for took to the streets, concealing their true agenda, which is to transform America into the slavery inherent in Marxism, by wrapping themselves in the Flag of our Nation and calling themselves patriots.

Their Newsletter made reference to a crazed protester who had a cardboard cutout of the President and his Trump flags. It was offered as proof positive that the Indivisibles are the true patriots because they used the American Flag and pledged allegiance. The Trump supporter was not displaying a Trump flag, It was a Gadsden flag. [See accompanying photo Ed] For the benefit of the Indivisibles, who consider themselves to be the smartest and most informed people on earth, the Gadsden Flag is an early American Revolutionary Flag that existed well before "Old Glory". It is favored by those who love Liberty. It is used extensively by the Tea Party and is still used by the US Marine Corps to this day.

The Invisibles St Johns, in their Newsletter, reported the following concerning their masquerade in the Plaza:

"The Articles of Impeachment were read and cheered. Speeches covered the impact of foreign interference in the 2016 election and the fact that Trump has indicated he'd accept foreign help again. The rally ended with reflection upon the seriousness of impeachment, the danger our country faces if Trump is not removed and a rousing pledge of allegiance to our flag."

No One is Above the Law

WHEN: Tuesday, December 17 at 5:30 p.m.

HOST(S): Mary L.

WHERE: Plaza de la Constitucion
Saint Augustine, FL 32084

Signups: 470 attendees

WE ARE ON FOR TUESDAY 12/17!! This is a Rapid Response event to be held at 530 PM in the plaza downtown St Augustine to show our demands that No One is Above the Law and we want our Senators to convict on Impeachment articles. Bring signs. Banner organizations please bring your banner and people to hold on stage. Parking free after 530. This event is planned to be a solemn and historical moment.

Directions:

SIGN UP TO ATTEND

At 5:30 PM on the day of the Indivisibles' event they were reporting that 470 people were planning to attend this "Rapid Response" event. The Indivisibles' have been holding the Rapid Response protest stance for months, should Mueller firings occur. When the firings didn't occur and with the Mueller investigation failing to turn up anything, they switched their Rapid Response stance to Impeachment according to posts in their Newsletter.

FB Image

In reality, about 100 people appeared in the Plaza. Some of them were Indivisibles. Some were unorganized Trump supporters who heckled and jeered the Impeachment organizers.

This is an unusual occurrence according to the Town Criers, a Committee of the St. Augustine Tea Party, who had a presence in the Plaza that night. The Town Criers have been active in the historic district of St. Augustine since 2011 and have witnessed numerous Communist events such as the one which took place on the 17th of December.

When the Communists take to the streets their demonstrations are usually self-contained, as the public is repelled by their very appearance. Their chanting and outrageous signs are rejected. In fact, according to the Town Criers reporters, this is the first time that the public has engaged them in all these years. Usually, visitors to St Augustine avoid them. The fact that individuals were prepared to stand up and protest the overturning of an election with a partisan impeachment is significant and shows the strength of Trump support.

FB Image

Many Called, Few Responded

According to Town Crier sources, local organized groups who should have been interested in supporting the President, were advised of the Indivisibles' Impeachment demonstration.

The Republican Party was partying. A Christmas party was more important than supporting their President. Both the REC and the Republican Club were advised.

The Trump Club, also, gave no response. Various militias offered no response.

If the organized groups in St. Augustine had resisted this Indivisible demonstration it would have been overwhelmed. As it turned out, the public did the Republican's job and showed their support for the President. The Town Criers did their job reporting on these hypocritical Communists who normally support people who burn American flags.

The Indivisibles' theme was, "No One is above the Law"

On this point the Town Criers agree, No One is above the law, especially the following:
